

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

APPENDIX.

List of Officers on whom Brevets were conferred by the President for gallant actions, or meritorious conduct, during the war with Great Britain,

P R E F A C E .

THE work now offered to the Army, originally contemplated nothing beyond a bare compilation of Official Army Registers. It soon, however, became apparent to the Compiler, as he proceeded with the collection of his materials, that its value, as a book of reference, would be enhanced by a slight extension of the original plan. The various orders issued from time to time, having reference to organization, seemed to him to belong properly, to a work of the character of the one he was compiling, and they have accordingly been introduced. He has also annexed an appendix, which will be found to contain matter of an interesting character, and which has been, heretofore, accessible to but few. This, he hopes, will render the work additionally acceptable to the subscribers and the Army generally.

Washington City, June 20, 1837.

ORGANIZATION

OF THE

MILITARY PEACE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, May 17, 1815.

The act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1815, declares, "That the military peace establishment of the United States, shall consist of such proportions of artillery, infantry, and riflemen, not exceeding, in the whole, ten thousand men, as the President of the United States shall judge proper; that the corps of engineers, as at present established, be retained; that the President of the United States cause to be arranged the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, of the several corps of troops in the service of the United States, in such manner as to form and complete out of the same, the corps authorized by this act; and that he cause the supernumerary officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, to be discharged from the service of the United States, from and after the first day of May next, or as soon as circumstances may permit."

The President of the United States, having performed the duty which the law assigned to him, has directed that the organization of the military peace establishment be announced in general orders; and that the supernumerary officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, be discharged from the service of the United States, as soon as the circumstances, which are necessary for the payment and discharge of the troops, will permit.

But on this important and interesting occasion, the President of the United States is aware, that he owes to the feelings of the nation, as well as to his own feelings, an expression of the high sense entertained of the services of the American army. Leaving the scenes of private life, the citizens became the soldiers of the United States; the spirit of a genuine patriotism quickly pervaded the military establishment; and the events of the war have conspicuously developed the moral, as well as the physical character of an army, in which every man seems to have deemed himself the chosen champion of his country.

The pacific policy of the American government, the domestic habits of the people, and a long sequestration from the use of arms, will justly account for the want of warlike preparation, for an imperfect state of discipline, and for various other sources of embarrassment, or disaster, which existed at the commencement of hostilities: but to account for the achievements of the American army, in all their splendor, and for its efficient acquirements in every important branch of the military art, during a war of little more than two years continuance; it is necessary to resort to that principle of action, which, in a free country, identifies the citizen with his government; impels each individual to seek the knowledge that is requisite for the performance of his duty; and renders every soldier, in effect, a combatant in his own cause.

The President of the United States anticipated from the career of an army thus constituted, all the glory and the fruits of victory; and it has been his happiness to see a just war terminated by an honorable peace, after such demonstrations of valor, genius, and enterprize, as secure for the land and naval forces of the United States an imperishable renown; for the citizens, the best prospect of an undisturbed enjoyment of their rights; and for the government, the respect and confidence of the world.

To the American army, which has so nobly contributed to these results, the President of the United States presents this public testimonial of approbation and applause.

at the moment when many of its gallant officers and men must, unavoidably, be separated from the standard of their country. Under all governments, and especially under all free governments, the restoration of peace has uniformly produced a reduction of the military establishment. The United States disbanded in 1800 the troops which had been raised on account of the differences with France; and the memorable peace of 1783, was followed by a discharge of the illustrious army of the Revolution. The frequency, or the necessity, of the occurrence does not, however, deprive it of its interest; and the dispersion of the military family, at this juncture, under circumstances peculiarly affecting, cannot fail to awaken all the sympathies of the generous and the just.

The difficulty of accomplishing a satisfactory organization of the military peace establishment, has been anxiously felt. The act of Congress contemplates a small, but an effective force; and, consequently, the honorable men, whose years, or infirmities, or wounds, render them incapable of further service, in active warfare, are necessarily excluded from the establishment. The act contemplates a reduction of the army from many, to a few regiments; and, consequently, a long list of meritorious officers must, inevitably, be laid aside. But the attempt has been assiduously made to collect authentic information from every source, as a foundation for an impartial judgment on the various claims to attention; and even while a decision is pronounced, the President of the United States desires it may be distinctly understood, that from the designation of the officers who are retained in service, nothing more is to be inferred, than his approbation of the designated individuals, without derogating, in any degree, from the fame and worth of those, whose lot it is to retire.

The American army of the war of 1812 has hitherto successfully emulated the patriotism and the valor of the army of the war of 1776. The closing scene of the example remains alone to be performed. Having established the independence of their country, the revolutionary warriors cheerfully returned to the walks of civil life; many of them became the benefactors and ornaments of society, in the prosecution of various arts and professions; and all of them, as well as the veteran few who survive the lapse of time, have been the objects of grateful recollection, and constant regard. It is for the American army, now dissolved, to pursue the same honorable course, in order to enjoy the same inestimable reward. The hope may be respectfully indulged, that the beneficence of the legislative authority will beam upon suffering merit; an admiring nation will unite the civic with the martial honors, which adorn its heroes; and posterity, in its theme of gratitude, will indiscriminately praise the protectors and the founders of American independence.

By order of the President of the United States,

A. J. DALLAS,
Acting Secretary of War.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, April 8, 1815.

GENTLEMEN—The President of the United States has requested your attendance at Washington, with a view to the aid which your experience and information enable you to afford, in forming the military peace establishment, according to the directions of the act of Congress, passed on the 3d of March, 1815. I have the honor, therefore, of calling your attention to this interesting and important business; and to request an early report upon the following points; premising, that your report will be considered as an authentic source of information, to which a just respect will be paid in all future deliberations upon the subject.

1. The Organization of the Army.
2. The Selection of the Officers.
3. The Military Stations.

I. THE ORGANIZATION OF THE ARMY.

The act of Congress declares, that the military peace establishment of the United States shall consist of proportions of artillery, infantry, and riflemen, not exceeding in the whole ten thousand men; and that the corps of engineers, as at present established, be retained.

Upon full consideration of the terms of the act, and of the military interpretation given to similar terms, on other occasions, the President is of opinion, that the military peace establishment, so far as it is composed of artillery, infantry and riflemen, is to consist of the number of ten thousand men, exclusively of officers, non-commissioned officers and musicians; and you will be pleased to conform, in your report, to that opinion.

The proportions of artillery, infantry and riflemen, to compose the military peace establishment of ten thousand men, are referred to your consideration; and you will be pleased, in your report, to furnish the necessary details for forming the establishment into brigades, regiments, battalions and companies. But it is proper to observe, that special provision is made by law for the organization of the corps of artillery, as prescribed in the act of the 30th March, 1814; for the organization of the regiment of light artillery, as prescribed in the act of the 12th of April, 1808; and for the organization of the regiments of infantry and riflemen, as prescribed in the act of the 3d of March, 1815.

The law has, also, specially provided, that there shall be four brigade-inspectors, four brigade quartermasters, and such number of hospital surgeons and surgeon's mates, as the service may require, not exceeding five surgeons and fifteen mates, with one steward, and one ward-master to each hospital. But the brigade inspectors are to be taken from the line, and the brigade quartermasters, as well as adjutants, regimental quartermasters, and paymasters, are to be taken from the subalterns of the line.

II. THE SELECTION OF THE OFFICERS.

The reduction of the military establishment to the number of ten thousand men, sufficiently indicates the intention of Congress to be, that the officers, non-commissioned officers and privates should be selected and arranged in such manner as to form and complete an effective corps. It is, undoubtedly, a painful duty to make a discrimination, which affects the interest, and possibly the subsistence of honorable men, whose misfortune it is by age, by infirmities or by wounds, to be disabled from rendering further service to their country: but the task must be performed by those who are charged with the execution of the law; leaving the relief which may be justly claimed by suffering merit, to the beneficent care of the legislative authority.

It is the opinion of the President, therefore, that in the selection of the officers to be retained upon the military peace establishment, those only should be recommended, in your report, for his approbation, who are, at this time, competent to engage an enemy in the field of battle.

The number of field officers now in service, amounts to two hundred and sixteen, and the number of regimental officers, now in service, amounts to two thousand and fifty-five. Of the former, about thirty-nine, and of the latter, about four hundred and fifty can be retained in service, according to the provisions of the act of Congress for fixing the military peace establishment. In every grade of appointment, almost every officer has gallantly performed his duty. It is obvious, therefore, that with respect to the field officers, and the regimental officers, as well as with respect to the general officers, men of high military merit must unavoidably be omitted in the present organization of the army. It has not been, and it never can be, under such circumstances, a mark of disrespect, or a subject of reproach, to omit the name of any officer; and the President wishes it may be distinctly understood, that from the selection of officers, nothing more ought to be inferred, than his approbation of the selected individuals, without derogating, in any degree, from the reputation and worth of others.

It is the President's desire upon this important point, that distinguished military merit and approved moral character should form the basis of all the selections which your report shall submit to his consideration. Where, in these respects, the claims of officers are equal, length of service, a capacity for civil pursuits, and the pecuniary situation of the parties, may justly furnish considerations to settle the question. And where neither direct nor collateral circumstances exist, by which your judgment can be fixed, you will find a reasonable satisfaction, perhaps, in referring the decision in this case, as is done in many similar cases, to the chance of a lottery; or you may submit a recommendatory list, leaving the selection entirely to the Executive. Great pains have been taken to collect and preserve the testimonials of military merit; and these, with all the other documents of the department which can assist your inquiries, will be confidentially placed before you. It is not doubted, therefore, that your report will be as advantageous to the government as it will be just to the army. A result at once impartial and effective, will not only correspond with the President's views, but must command the approbation of every honorable mind; and it is, in particular, believed, that an appeal may be confidently made, in the performance of so arduous a duty, to the candor of your military brethren, whatever may be their personal disappointment, or regret.

II. THE MILITARY STATIONS.

A general division of the United States, into a department of the north, and a department of the south, with a subdivision into convenient districts, including in each department a major general, two brigadier generals, and a proper proportion of the army, will, probably, be attended with practical advantages; and it is, therefore, referred to your consideration.

The assignment of a competent garrison to the existing forts and military stations; and an apportionment of the troops to the districts, according to the service which may be required, will engage your particular attention. But it has been suggested, that some of the regiments have obtained a local character, from the residence of the officers, the enlistment of the men, and the scene of service during the war. If, therefore, you should deem it practicable and useful, both in the selection of officers, and in the assignment of stations to the troops, to regard that character of locality, you will be pleased to report accordingly.

There are other important subjects connected with the execution of the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1815, which I may hereafter have occasion to lay before you. But the points of this communication being of immediate urgency, I shall, at present, close the general views, which I have taken of them, with an assurance, that you may command all the information and assistance, that it is in my power to give.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

A. J. DALLAS,
Acting Secretary of War.

Major Generals BROWN, JACKSON, SCOTT,
GAINES, MACOMB and RIFLEY.*

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, April 17, 1815.

GENTLEMEN—I proceed to state some additional views connected with the execution of the act of Congress fixing the military peace establishment.

I. Corps belonging to the army, which are not expressly retained by the provisions of the act, are to be discharged.

* Major Generals Jackson and Gaines could not attend, in consequence of the distance of their quarters from Washington, and the urgency of the service required in the military districts in which they commanded.

The corps expressly provided for, are

1. The corps of artillery; 2. The regiment of light artillery; 3. The corps of engineers; 4. Regiments of infantry and riflemen.

The corps not provided for, are

1. The regiment of light dragoons; 2. The Canadian volunteers; 3. The sea-fencibles.

II. The officers of the general staff employed in the command, discipline and duties of the army, who are not expressly retained by the provisions of the act, are to be discharged.

The officers provided for, are

1. Two major-generals, with two aids-de-camp, each; 2. Four brigadier-generals, with one aid-de-camp, each; 3. Four brigade inspectors; 4. Four brigade quarter masters.

The officers not provided for, are

1. All the general officers, except the six above mentioned; 2. All the officers of the adjutant general's department; 3. All the officers of the inspector general's department—four brigade inspectors being substituted; 4. All the officers of the quarter-master's department—four brigade quarter-masters being substituted; 5. All the officers of the topographical department.

III. Departments which do not form a constituent part of the army are preserved, except so far as the act of Congress by express provision, or necessary implication, introduces an alteration.

1. The ordnance department is preserved. It is a distinct establishment with a view to a state of peace, as well as a state of war. It is not affected by any express provision in the act of Congress; and it is an object of the appropriations made for the military peace establishment.

2. The purchasing department is preserved for similar reasons.

3. The pay department is preserved, with specific modifications. The act of Congress expressly provides for the appointment of regimental paymasters. The office of district paymaster and assistant district paymaster, is abolished; but the act of the 18th of April, 1814, which continues in force for one year after the war, is not repealed, nor affected in any other manner, than has been mentioned by the act of the 3d of March, 1815. It is seen, therefore, that the act of the 16th of March, 1802, fixing the military peace establishment, constituted the office of paymaster of the army, seven paymasters, and two assistants; and that the act of the 18th of April, 1814, recognizes the office of paymaster of the army; and in lieu of a monthly compensation, allows the paymaster an annual salary of two thousand dollars, payable quarterly at the Treasury. The former act is of indefinite continuance; and the latter will continue in force until the 17th of February, 1816. Nor does the act of the 3d of March, 1815, affect the office of deputy paymaster general: the act of the 6th of July, 1812, providing, that to any army of the United States other than that in which the paymaster of the army shall serve, the President may appoint one deputy paymaster general, to be taken from the line of the army; and each deputy shall have a competent number of assistants.

4. The office of judge advocate, is preserved. The act of the 11th of January, 1812, provides, that there shall be appointed to each division, a judge advocate. The act of the 3d of March, 1815, neither expressly, nor by necessary implication, repeals that provision.

5. The chaplains are preserved. The act of the 11th of January, 1812, provides, that there shall be appointed to each brigade, one chaplain. The act of the 3d of March, 1815, neither expressly, nor by necessary implication, repeals that provision.

6. The hospital department is not preserved. The act of the 3d of March, 1815, provides for regimental surgeons and surgeon's mates, and for such number of hospital surgeons and surgeon's mates, as the service may require, not exceeding five surgeons and fifteen mates, with one steward, and one ward-master to each hospital. From this specific arrangement, it is necessarily implied, that the physician and surgeon general, the assistant apothecaries general, and all the hospital surgeons and surgeon's mates, garrison surgeons, and surgeons' mates, except the above specified number, are to be

4. Of the Riflemen, there shall be ten companies, or one regiment, making 680

9,980

And the President of the United States has further judged proper, that the United States be divided into two military divisions; and that each military division be subdivided into military departments, as follows:

The division of the north, to comprise five military departments, to wit:

No. 1. New York, above the Highlands, and Vermont.

No. 2. New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

No. 3. New York, below the Highlands, and that part of New Jersey which furnishes the first division of militia.

No. 4. Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, and that part of New Jersey, which furnishes the second division of militia.

No. 5. Ohio, and the territories of Michigan and Indiana.

The Division of the south, to comprise four military departments, to wit:

No. 6. Virginia, North Carolina, and the District of Columbia.

No. 7. South Carolina and Georgia.

No. 8. Louisiana and the Mississippi Territory.

No. 9. Tennessee, Kentucky, and the territories of Missouri and Illinois.

And the President of the United States has further judged proper, that the general distribution of the regiments and corps constituting the military peace establishment, shall be made in the following manner:

TO THE DIVISION OF THE NORTH.

The second, third, fifth and sixth regiments of infantry, forming two brigades.

Four battalions of the corps of artillery and the regiment of light artillery.

TO THE DIVISION OF THE SOUTH.

The first, fourth, seventh and eighth regiments of infantry, forming two brigades.

Four battalions of the corps of artillery and the regiment of riflemen.

And the President of the United States has further judged it proper, that a part of the several regiments and corps constituting the military peace establishment, shall be detailed and apportioned for the following named stations; and that the rest of the regiments and corps shall be disposed of as the major-generals commanding divisions, may hereafter direct.

And the President of the United States has further judged proper, that the non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates, of the several regiments and corps now in the service of the United States, whose term of service has not expired, shall be so arranged as to form and complete out of the same the non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, constituting the military peace establishment in the manner following, viz:

To form the regiment of light artillery, (brigadier general Porter,) there shall be mustered for selection, the light artillery proper, the 15th, the 26th, the 30th, the 31st, the 33d, the 34th, and 45th regiments of infantry.

To form the corps of artillery, there shall be mustered for selection, the corps of artillery proper; the regiment of dragoons; the 41st, the 42d and the 43d regiments of infantry.

For the 5th regiment of infantry, (brigadier General Miller,) the 4th, the 9th, the 15th, the 21st, the 40th and 46th regiments of infantry.

For the 6th regiment of infantry, (colonel H. Atkinson,) the 11th, 25th, 27th, 29th, and the 37th regiments of infantry.

To form the regiments of infantry and riflemen, in the division of the south.

For the 1st regiment of infantry, (brigadier general Bissel,) the 2d, 3d, 7th and the 44th regiments of Infantry.

For the rifle regiment, (brigadier general Smith,) the 1st, 2d, 3d, and the 4th rifle regiments.

And the President of the United States has further judged proper, that in addition to the provision for a general staff, which is specifically made by the act of Congress, certain officers shall be retained, under the special authority given by the act, until circumstances will permit of their discharge, without material injury to the service: and that the following shall be the

ADJT. & INSP. GEN'S. OFFICE,
May 17, 1815.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, May 17, 1815

GENERAL ORDER.

The President of the United States has taken the necessary measures to arrange the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates of the several regiments and corps of troops now in the service of the United States, in such manner as to form and complete out of the same the corps authorized by the act of Congress, entitled "An act fixing the military peace establishment of the United States," passed the 3d of March, 1815; which arrangement is this day duly announced in general orders. The troops enlisted for the war are, therefore, to be discharged as soon as they can be mustered and paid. All supernumeraries will be discharged as soon as the selection of non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates, for forming the regiments and corps respectively, is made, so that the discharge of all the troops not included in the military peace establishment may be completed on the 15th day of June next, or as soon thereafter as their discharge can be effected at the respective military posts and stations of the United States, subject to these modifications: 1st. That all the officers (not included in the arrangement,) shall continue in command with the troops at their respective stations, until they are regularly relieved by the officers, who are retained on the military peace establishment; and they will be held responsible accordingly for the due preservation of discipline and order. 2. That the supernumerary officers may be called upon to fill vacancies, should any of the officers who are nominated decline accepting their appointments in the military peace establishment, as the law authorizes the establishment to be formed and completed out of the several corps of troops now in the service of the United States: And, 3. That quartermasters, commissaries, paymasters, and all other officers entrusted with the receipt and disbursement of public money, whose accounts are unsettled, shall be deemed to continue in service, during a reasonable period, for the single purpose of rendering and settling their accounts.

The paymaster of the army will provide, without delay, for the payment of the troops, at their respective military posts and stations. And the officers commanding in the several military districts, will take the necessary steps for mustering and discharging the ADJUTANT & INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, March 3, 1820.

GENERAL ORDER.

A Board of Officers, of which Major General Brown is President, and Brevet Major General Scott and Lieut. Col. Arbuckle are members, will meet at Philadelphia, at such time as the President may designate, and for which he will give orders to the members.

To this Board the Secretary of War refers the subject of restoring again, to the Regiments and Corps from which their names have been taken, the several officers of the Staff appointed under the act of April 24, 1816, and referred to in the communication of Major Kirby, Assistant Adjutant General, and the report of the Adjutant and Inspector General herewith enclosed to the President of the Board.

The Board will call for such other evidence as it may require, and report its opinion as early as convenient.

By order,

D. PARKER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

REPORT OF A BOARD OF OFFICERS.

The Board of Officers, consisting of Major General Brown, Brevet Major General Scott, and Lieutenant Colonel Arbuckle, instituted by the General Order of the 3d instant, to decide on the claims of certain officers of the General Staff of the Army of the United States, after an examination of the subject in its several relations, has the honor to make the following report:

By the law of March 3, 1813, for the organization of the Staff, it appears that the officers who were transferred from the line of the Army to the performance of Staff duties, were secured in their right of promotion, and in their lineal rank—their promotion was to “take place in the same manner as if they had not been thus transferred.”

The law of 24th April, 1816, for the organization of the Staff of the Peace Establishment, confirms to officers, transferred from lineal to Staff duties, “all the privileges secured to the Staff of the Army by the act of March 3, 1813.”

As the officers who claim their lineal rank on the authority of the preceding laws, do not appear to have made a voluntary relinquishment of it: on the contrary, as they have constantly asserted their claims to it, and as no evidence is adduced to show that they have been formally dismissed, the Board is of opinion that those officers, who were at, and who have been since, the organization of the Peace Establishment, transferred from the line of the Army to the Staff, are entitled, and ought to be restored to the Lineal rank which they would now hold in their respective corps, had they not been thus transferred.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30, 1820.

ADJUTANT & INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, May 20, 1820.

GENERAL ORDER.

The above report of the Board of Officers, of which Major General Brown was President, is approved, and conformably thereto, John E. Wool, Inspector General of the North Division, is restored to the lineal rank of Lieutenant Colonel; to rank as such from the 10th of February, 1818, above Lieutenant Colonel Leavenworth.

GENERAL ORDER.

C. J. Nourse, Assistant Adjutant General, is restored to the lineal rank of Captain in the 2d Infantry, to rank from the 17th June, 1816, above Captain Bailey.

R. M. Kirby, Assistant Adjutant General, is restored to the lineal rank of First Lieutenant, in the Corps of Artillery, to rank from the 23d of March, 1818, above Lieutenant Dix.

F. S. Belton, Assistant Inspector General, is restored to the lineal rank of Captain in the 4th Infantry, to rank from the 31st of July, 1817, above Captain Gale.

These officers will be arranged to their proper places in the line, and will fill vacancies accordingly.

By order,

D. PARKER,
Adj. & Ins. General.

LETTER TO BOARD OF OFFICERS

ON THE SUBJECT OF

THE REDUCTION OF THE ARMY.

(COPY.)

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, March 10, 1821.

To Major General BROWN,
Brigadier Generals SCOTT and GAINES.

You having been retained in service by the President of the United States, under the Act of Congress of the 2d March, 1821, reducing the Military Peace Establishment, he desires your attendance at Washington, on the 10th of April next, in order to aid by your experience and information in determining on the officers to be discharged, as well as on other points connected with the new arrangements and distribution of the Army under the said Act. Orders more in detail, as to the principles on which your report ought to be formed, and the points to be embraced by it, will be hereafter communicated to you,* with such information and documents in this Department as may afford light on the points to be determined.

I have the honor to be, &c.

J. C. CALHOUN.

* Application was made to the honorable Secretary of War, for copies of these Orders, and his permission obtained to incorporate them in this compilation, but on reference to the records of the War Office, as well as to the files of the Adjutant General's Office, no such orders could be found. The compiler was thus disappointed in his expectation of being able to present to the Army, an interesting portion of the history of the reduction of 1821.

And the President further directs, until otherwise ordered, that the immediate command of all the troops, as above distributed, west of a line drawn from the southernmost point of East Florida to the north-west extremity of Lake Superior, be assigned to Brevet Major General Gaines; and that the command of the troops, east of such line, be assigned to Brevet Major General Scott.

The Head Quarters of Major General Scott will be in the District of Columbia; the Head Quarters of the Western Department will be at Louisville, Kentucky; and the Head Quarters of the Eastern Department will be at Governor's Island, New York, when the Generals are not on visits of inspection and tours of duty.

All officers included in the above list, and not on special duty, will forthwith join their respective regiments and commands.

Officers who are designated as Assistant Quartermasters, and Assistant Commissaries of Subsistence, will forthwith report, by letter, to those Departments for specific instructions.

Special orders have been given to local commanders, for consolidating and reducing the troops, preparatory to this arrangement, all supernumerary Non Commissioned Officers, Artificers, Musicians and Privates, if any such remain in service, will be discharged at their respective posts, as soon as practicable.

All officers whose names are not included in the above list must consider themselves disbanded on the first of June next, except quarter masters, commissaries, and store-keepers charged with the safe keeping of public property, who will remain in service until specially relieved from their accountability.

It is deemed inexpedient to continue arrests or proceedings of courts martial which may have been instituted on officers not retained in the Army. All such Officers will be released from arrest and discharged from further duty.

All deserters from the Army of the United States, previous to the date of this order, may peaceably and safely return to their homes, without being subject to punishment, or trial, on account of such desertion. No reward or expenses will be allowed for apprehending any soldier who deserted prior to this order.

All soldiers in confinement by sentence of courts martial, will be dismissed the service with disgrace.

The regulations relative to transfers is so far suspended that officers may be taken from one Regiment or Corps and arranged to another, the more perfectly to complete the organization, without consulting the individuals interested, until the first of January next.

By order,

D. PARKER,
Adjutant & Inspector General.

NOTE.—In arranging the Lieutenants of Artillery to the most convenient stations for immediate duty, attention has not been paid in all cases by the Board of Officers to equal promotion, which must be a subject of future orders.

THE functions of the Officers of the Staff, like those of the Engineers, being generally confined to objects of a peculiarly important character, they are not to assume, nor are they to be ordered on any service, beyond the line of their immediate duty, except, by the special directions of the War Department, or the orders of the General commanding the Army. This rule is not to extend to Regimental Staff Officers, or Assistant Commissaries of Subsistence, who are to conform to the practice as now settled with regard to their duties. The Officers of the Staff are to receive every mark of respect to which their rank in the Army would entitle them respectively.

The Western Department comprises all west of a line drawn from the Southernmost point of East Florida to the North West extremity of Lake Superior, taking in the whole of Tennessee and Kentucky; and the Eastern Department, all East of such line.

The Head Quarters of the General in Chief is in the District of Columbia.

The Head Quarters of the Commanding General of the Western Department, is at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri; and the Head Quarters of the Commanding General of the Eastern Department, is in the City of New York.

Graduates of the Military Academy acting as Supernumerary Officers of the Army, by virtue of their brevets, shall be promoted to vacancies in the Regiment or Corps to which they are attached respectively.

Those Officers, whose stations are changed by transfers and promotions, will report for duty accordingly.

By order,

R. JONES,
Adjutant General.
